South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freshest Advices Foreign and Domestick.

From SATURDAY December 5, to SATURDAY December 12, 1741.

CHARLES-TOWN.

To the Honourable WILLIAM BULL, Esq; Lieutenant Governor and Commander in Chief in and over His Majesty's Province of South-Carolina.

The humble ADDRESS of the Upper House of Assembly,

May it please your Honour,

WHIS Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Council of this Province, met in General Assembly, beg Leave to return our humble and hearty Thanks to your Honour, for your Speech delivered Yesterday to both Houses.

IT is with the utmost Gratitude we acknowledge the generous Relief and Assistance granted by the Parliament of Great-Britain, to enable the Inhabitants of this Province, who were Sufferers by the late dreadful Fire in Charles Town, to re-settle and re-establish the same; and also the tender Regard which your Honour hath discovered towards those Sufferers, by calling us together at this Time on Purpose that they may the sooner receive the Benefit of that Relief. And we shall immediately appoint a Committee of this House, to enquire into the respective Losses of the Inhabitants, in doing which the prudent Method which their Excellencies the Lords Justices have pointed out shall be strictly pursued.

WITH Pleasure we observe your Honour improving this, as you have every other Opportunity of endeavouring to provide for the Welfare and Security of the Province. As we have felt the like Concern with your Honour for the immediate Protection of our Trade, until the Arrival of those Ships of War which his Majesty hath been graciously pleased to order to be stationed here for that Purpose, in the Room of the Tartar which hath been called Home, and of the Plants, which is at present disabled, so the Commons House can make no Provision to disappoint the Attempts of our Enemies upon our Trade, in the mean Time, but what will meet with the cheerful Concurrence of this House.

WHEN the Presentments of the Grand Jury are laid before us, we shall take the same under Consideration, and endeavour as far as it lies in our Power, to redress any Grievance whatsoever: We have no Room to doubt of your Honour's redressing any that lie solely in your Power to redress, because we have long been Witnesses of your Readiness to do it.

By Order of the House,

October 29, 1741.

JOHN FENWICK.

Venice, Sept. 16. Letters from Constantinople of the 12th of August advise, that Thamas Kouli Kan enter'd Armenia with his Army in the beginning of June, and that the People of that Province are in the greatest Consternation; the Bashaw who commands there being scarce able to muster up 30000 Men.

From the Camp of St. Ildefonso, Aug. 29. The Duke de Montemar, who is come hither from Madrid by Order of the Court has frequent Conferences with the King's Minister: No Day is as yet fix'd for that General's Departure for Catalonia. However, the Transport Ships hired for the intended Expedition continue to rendezvous at Barcelona, and 'tis said, that the Troops will certainly embark the 20th or 25th of next Month. We hear from Cadix that the King's Squadron was still in that Port when the last Letters came away. The Marquess de Villarias, Secretary of State, received a Courier a few Days since from the Count de Monijo, and went immediately to shew the Dispatches to the King, who was extremely pleased with their Contents. — And will much more when he hears of the Convention concluded at H —.

Breslau, Sept. 17. The King's Army encamps before Neits: We don't know whether his Majesty will besiege it in Form, or whether he will content himself with bombarding it. It is said, that the Austrian Army, which came back to the Camp of Buhlau, has since retir'd into the Mountains.

Feldberg, Sept. 21. All the Towns and Villages in this Neighbourhood have received Orders to furnish a great Quantity of Hay, Oats and Straw for the French Troops that are to come and encamp at Wislock. This Morning they began to pass the Rhine over against Spire.

Frankfort, Sept. 24. We expect to hear in a few Days that Vienna is blocked up. The Marshal de Belle Isle is to set out forthwith to join the French Army in Austria: It is said his Excellency is to have the Direction of the Siege.

Ratisbon, Sept. 25. We reckon that most of the French Troops passed by this City are actually arrived at Passau; from whence they are to march and join the Bavarian Army. We hear that the latter have passed the River Enn, and that several Cities and Towns of Upper Austria have sent Deputies to the Elector with their submissions.

The Hanoverian Minister here gives out, that the King of Great Britain is not only making the necessary Dispositions to defend his German Dominions against a foreign Invader, but that, by the Measures his Britannick Majesty pursues, he will probably soon be in a Condition to act offensively; and that this Monarch is resolved to defend, to the utmost of his Power, the Liberties of the Germanick Body, &c.

Cologne, Sept. 26. The 23d and 24th Instant the French Army passed the Rhine, and pitch'd their Tents at Kalum. In two or three Days they will continue their March, with the Cologne and Palatine Troops, towards the Bishoprick of Osnabrug.

Hannover, Sept. 3. The Engineers that went to mark out the two Camps at Hamelen on the Weser, and at Barnstorf in the County of Diepholz, came back a few Days ago. Several Regiments have since begun their March for those Camps. The two Battalions of Guards will take the same Route to Morrow, having been relieved this Day by the Burghers, who are to do Duty at the Gates and other Posts of the City.

The

The Troops of these two Camps will make in all 18,000 Men, to which will be join'd the Danish and Hessian Troops in British Pay.

Paris Sept. 27. The first Division of our Troops is already arriv'd at Passau; the other Divisions follow with the heavy Cannon; it is not doubted but that the Operations of the Campaign will begin forthwith; and 'tis pretended that the King's Troops may possibly advance as far as Vienna.

The Election of an Emperor will certainly fall on the Elector of Bavaria, and the Prussian Resident at Francfort has openly declar'd to the Envoys of Mentz and Trier that he has the positive Orders to give his Vote for none but the Elector of Bavaria, and that in Case the Ecclesiastick Electors should cast their Eyes upon another Prince, the King's Master would support his Electoral Highness of Bavaria with all his Forces.
